

Kissimmee, FL--USSSA is excited to announce it is extending a partnership with WORLD CLASS COACHING. This will benefit all youth coaches whose teams are registered with USSSA. For the 2011/2012 year, all coaches will receive unlimited access to the WORLD CLASS COACHING Member Drills Database which will help them to improve upon their player's skills through new and effective soccer exercises. The Member Drills Database is the world's largest online, searchable database with over 5,000 pages of soccer drills and exercises.

The database is simple and reliable with 24/7 access, available online and through the iPhone and iPad. The Member Drills Database contains complete training sessions as well as various drills and exercises by topic, including, Age Group specific sessions. The Age Group sessions are complete training sessions by various age group teams. They are complete training sessions that include warm up, technical, tactical and physical work, which will help USSSA coaches run better organized sessions and also help them structure their sessions over the course of an entire season. This will not only help USSSA coaches through showing them how they can design a session from start to finish, but it also demonstrates how to schedule training sessions throughout the season with various levels of intensity depending on the time season.

"We are very excited to be extending our partnership with USSSA and are looking forward to providing another year of quality coaching content to all USSSA coaches," said WORLD CLASS COACHING President, Mike Saif.

Craig Scriven, National Director of USSSA said, "At USSSA, coaching education continues to be placed at a high priority. The Member Database is a very exciting addition as coaches will receive much more information through a number of different training sessions. The added bonus of special focus sessions (finishing, possession, set pieces, defending etc) will allow coaches to improve their knowledge as well as improve the playing experience for all USSSA players and members."

WORLD CLASS COACHING, based in Leawood, KS and formed in 1998 by President Mike Saif, is a soccer coaching education company that produces and publishes books, DVDs, coaching tours, coaching seminars and online content for soccer coaches.
